All rights reserved - From Literary Times Justin Trevelyan, the new Duke of Marlow, has everything a woman could want. Yet match-making mamas hide their daughters whenever he steps into a ballroom. They call him Devil Trevelyan-an arrogant beast of a man, a notorious libertine who has raised debauchery to an art form. No one sees the ugly scars hidden beneath his handsome face and reckless spirit. Isabel Darracott is determined to convince her negligent guardian to provide for her two younger sisters. Instead of the middle-aged gentleman she expected to find in London, she tangles with a half-clad barbarian intent on ravishing her. When she realizes the horrible truth, she insists Justin appoint an appropriate guardian. Astonished by his estranged father's will, Justin abhors the idea of guardianship to this impertinent spinster and her two sisters. Yet, Isabel has tossed the gauntlet. She challenges him, defies him, captivates him with her gentle beauty and strong spirit. As they untangle an ancient mystery and investigate the murders of her father and brother, Justin realizes he must prove his honor to earn a chance for this angel to redeem his soul. "Debra Dier will keep you turning the pages in this entertaining, fast paced tale...It both charms and delights with a little mystery, passion and even a bit of humor." -RT Reviews Visit debradier.com to read the first four chapters of the book.

From award winning author Debra Dier comes the fourth book in the Destiny Devices Series, a romantic adventure with a touch of fantasy. In The Sorcerer's Lady, an Irish Sorcerer travels a thousand years to claim the woman of his destiny. This edition includes minor revisions to the original story. "Debra Dier takes myths and turns them into a magical, mystical world...Here is laughter and love wrapped up in a marvelous, memorable story."-Paperback Forum Victorian debutante Laura Sullivan couldn't believe her eyes; Aunt Sophie's ancient spell had conjured up the man of Laura's dreams-and deposited a half-naked barbarian in the elegant library of her Boston home. How in the world could she explain the arrival of the captivating Viking? Although she could not deny an irresistible attraction to the infuriating brute, he was hardly the proper blue blood her father expected her to marry. A powerful sorcerer, Connor had traveled through the ages to reach his soul mate, the bewitching beauty who had captured his heart in dreams. But Beacon Hill wasn't ninth-century Ireland, and Connor's powers were useless if he couldn't convince Laura that love was stronger than magic and that she was destined to become The Sorcerer's Lady. "Debra Dier always brings something new and special to the genre..."-RT Reviews "A marvelous tale...A Keeper!"-Rendezvous

Rich and spoiled Kate Whitmore meets her match in notorious rogue Devlin McCain when they travel together into the lush Brazilian jungle, searching for clues to an ancient mystery, where they succumb to the fierce passion that rages between them. Reissue.

Meg Drummond waned nothing to do with love--not when she'd seen her own parents' marriage fall apart. And though she'd promised to marry an Englishman to spite her father, she had yet to find someone to win her senses until Alec MacLaren charged back into her deep-seated passions with his wicked Highland ways. Alec kidnapped and married her out of loyalty to her father. He knew he needed to break through the wall of ice around her heart, gain her trust, and awaken her desire to truly make her his bride.

A balanced, comprehensive account of the largest armored battle since World War II

Meet Blackwater USA, the private army that the US government has quietly hired to operate in international war zones and on American soil. Its contacts run from military and intelligence agencies to the upper echelons of the White House; it has a military base, a fleet of aircraft and 20,000 troops, but since September 2007 the firm has been hit by a series of scandals that, far from damaging the company, have led to an unprecedented period of expansion. This revised and updated edition includes Scahill's continued investigative work into one of the outrages of our time: the privatisation of war.

Vowing revenge on Ian Tremayne, the handsome Yankee to whom she surrendered her innocence and who cruelly abandoned her, Sabrina O'Neill disguises herself and enters the world of New York society in search of Ian Aislinn Hennessy pens tales of courage, loyalty, and true love, but her heroes of old are pure fantasy-figments of her imagination. She long ago gave up thinking a knight in shining armor would sweep her off her feet, but then she never expected to run him off the road either. Sir Dougray Fitzpatrick has buried one wife and vows to never love again-but destiny has other plans for this 16th century Irish Lord. During a battle, a mist separates Dougray from his men and casts him into the future. Dougray must return to Dunhaven and to his century, but Aislinn follows him into the mist, leaving him no choice, but to take her home with him. Conspiracies, feuds and unexpected violence are commonplace threats, but along the way, Aislinn and Dougray discover a surprise neither one expects: a chance for love even when they're Lost in the Mist of Time.
